

Wildlife Rescuers & Transporters

Monday, 26 May 2008

Last Updated Thursday, 29 May 2008

Rescuers / Transporters are responsible for responding to calls for injured, orphaned or trapped wildlife and transporting the wildlife to Lakota for assessment. Because both the knowledge of safely obtaining an animal into a transporter and the knowledge of interacting with the Public as a Representative of Lakota require skill, training is mandatory. The commitment level of this job requires responding to a minimum of 4 calls per week for the at least 3 months.